

Work by Brian Juliano

ART ON PURPOSE & THE BALTIMORE MUSEUM OF ART

present a community event:

Art & Addiction: Flip Sides of Madness & Obsession

Sunday, November 1, 2009 at 3 pm

Inspired by the exhibition, BALTIMORE INSPIRED BY POE, on view Oct 4-Jan 17!

Art on Purpose is pleased to announce our upcoming event “Art & Addiction: Flip Sides of Madness & Obsession” in partnership with The Baltimore Museum of Art and in conjunction with Edgar Allan Poe: A Baltimore Icon.

The event explores the nexus between art and addiction, and features a presentation by one of the world’s leading experts on addiction, Dr. Jack Henningfield, who pioneered an annual Art & Addiction juried show during his years leading the Innovators Combating Substance Abuse Awards Program. Also included are presentations and performances by artists and a community discussion on art, addiction, and recovery. Information about the latest drug and alcohol research and addiction recovery programs will be available. A reception follows in the McCall Gallery.

Learn more at www.artonpurpose.org or www.artbma.org.

The Baltimore Museum Of Art
McCall Gallery
10 Art Museum Drive
Baltimore, MD 21218

Baltimore Inspired by Poe workshops were made possible with the generous support of Robbye and Kevin Apperson, with additional support from Rosenberg / Martin / Greenberg, LLP. In-kind support for framing is provided by Fleckenstein Gallery & Archival Framing.

We are grateful to the Enoch Pratt Free Library branches for graciously hosting the workshops.

Art on Purpose, a 501 (c) 3 organization, receives funding from The Maryland State Arts Council, an agency dedicated to cultivating a vibrant cultural community where the arts thrive. Additional funding comes from numerous private foundations, partners, individuals, and other government granting agencies, including a grant from Mayor Sheila Dixon and the Baltimore Office of Promotion and the Arts.