MVLS Announces New Member to Board of Director

BALTIMORE—The Board of Directors of Maryland Volunteer Lawyers Service elected Caroline Ciralo as a new member at its February meeting.

Caroline D. Ciralo is a partner with Rosenberg | Martin | Greenberg, LLP in Baltimore, Maryland, and a member of the firm's management committee. She represents individuals and businesses in federal and state civil tax controversies and litigation, and criminal tax defense.

Ms. Ciralo is Chair of the Taxation Section of the Maryland State Bar Association. She previously served as Chair of Important Criminal Developments for the Civil and Criminal Tax Penalties Committee of the Section of Taxation of the American Bar Association (2004-2008) and is a member of the Thomson West Tax Advisory Board. She is also a member of the attorney panel for the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit. In 2009, Ms. Ciralo was selected as a Maryland Super Lawyer and listed among the Top 25 Women Attorneys in Maryland.

MVLS is a nonprofit organization that provides free and reduced-fee legal assistance to low-income people throughout Maryland. Cases handled by MVLS include landlord/tenant, consumer rights, denial of public benefits, divorce and custody, wills, deed changes, name changes, and tax disputes. MVLS also offers self-help bankruptcy classes, and administers courthouse advice clinics in Howard and Washington counties. # # #
